have fortifications of their enemy on all sides of them, and they can easily be prevented from aiding each other; so they are at the mercy of the Mexicans, whose Commander-iu-Chief, Gen. Laragoza, is by no means well-disposed toward them, and who was for war against them without quarter from their first landing. To make these preliminaries, Gen. Prim had to go 24 leagues, 14 of them on borseback, to treat with Gen. Doblado, and the Adies showed how glad they were to accept the conditions by attending to them. We do not know positively what measures were decided upon in this interview between Gens. Prim and Doblado, but we hear that they consist of preliminaries for a meeting between two Commissioners from Juarez, and the allied Plenipotentiaries personally or by proxy, to take place at Orizaba.

Correspondence of The Associated Press.

HAVANA, March 1, 1982.

The steamer Isabel la Catolies, came in from Vera Cruz on the night of the 25th ult. Her advices are important, in so far as they may be the beginning of the end. We have been told that the Alies would advance on the 10th, the 15th, the 20th, and each time they have failed to do so. Now, under the date of the 21st, we are told they will so vance in a few days. I wrote you when the first news came, that they could not advance for a mouth at least, as there were not 300 carts among the whole allied force, nor were there the mules necessary for amen force, for were there the findes necessary for even these; a few have been sent from this port, but not half enough. Sickness continues, and deser-tions have been and are still frequent, and so far from advancing, they have left the encaupment at Paro del Poro, which was immediately occupied by the advanced posts of the Allies are the same of the Mexican army. On the 18th a conference was held between Gen. Degollado and other Commissioners named by Juarez, and the representatives of the Allied Powers, in which preliminaries were arranged for a meeting of Gens. Doblado and Saragoza with the allied plenipotentiaries, and on the 18th Gen. Prim and the representatives of the allies went by rail to Tejeria. From this town Gen. Prim started for Soledad (a small town on the Orizaba Road to Mexico) on horseback, accompanied for a short distance by the French Admiral, De la Gravière, who returned to Tejeria, excepted by fifty lancers. Three miles from Soledad. De la Gravière, who returned to Tejeria, ercorted by fits lancers. Three miles from Soledad, they must a conch drawn by eight mules, and containing Gen. Frim and Doblado were then cheeted till 3½ p. m., only interrupted by breakfast, when Gen. Frim returned, being accompanied a league by Gen. Saragoza. At Tejeria he was joined by Do la Graviere, and returned to Vera Cruz, arriving there about 9 p. m. What will be the result of this conference? Let us see what the correspondent of the Dearts de Marconier, accompany come analytical services.

Let us see what the correspondent of the Darko at la Marcaa gives, as coming from an authentic source, to be the decisions arrived at.

1. Negotiations are to be commerced immediately at Orizata between two Ministers of President Juniversal and the Allied Pleniptentiaries; but each, instead of being personally present, may send delegates, if they be mutually acceptable.

2. During the negotiations the forces of the Spanish Eventh and Each in will occupy the negitians.

ish, French, and English will occupy the positions of Cordova, Orizaba, and Tebuacan.

3. In case of the negotiations being broken off

3. In case of the negotiations being broken off through disagreement of the negotiating parties, the allied forces shall retire to their former positions.

4. The moment the allied troops commence to move toward the above places, Cordova, Crizaba, and Febuscan, in Vera Cruz, as well as in the Castle of San Jann de Ullon, shall be hoisted the Mexican flag, alongeide of the Spanish, French, and English of the Allied Powers.

The French and Eng ish plenipotentiaries have agreed to all these preliminary conditions, and at daylight on the 20th, Mr. Ieran carried them to Tejena and delivered them to Don Milano del Baseb, who was charged with carrying them to Gen. Doblado to be signed. The march island was to conlado to be signed. The march island was to commence in a few days. The Spaniards are to be stati ned at Orizaba, the French at Tenuacan and the English at Cordova. Gen. Santingo Vuldauri has been appointed military commander of Tamaulipas, who is Constitutional Governor of Nuevo Leon and Coahuila. This has amicably settled the dispute between the two parties of that State. The lack of provisions in Vera Cruz is very great, those sent from this port having been consumed. They are getting

His story is that the steamer was off the mouth of the Rio Grande, lading, as she drew too much water to go up to Matamoras, from whence cotton was brought down to her. That the cotton was owned by English residents in that city, and that through him it had been bought by Englishmen residing in England, etc. The Unionists here give another version. They say that this English steamer was charted and the Marquis is reported to have standed, in darm, 'Surely, Holy Father, you was awakened by the smoke, seized his two children, and, rushing with them from the bouse, placed them for safety in the stable.
